Learning Opportunity

Target Audience: Pre-school and kindergarten teachers and support staff are encouraged to attend.

What does a typical kindergarten day look like when research-based principles are at work?

Join us for a glimpse into one day in this dynamic kindergarten classroom. Become immersed in an environment that supports foundational learning through play, movement and creating.

Participants will delve into planning for a positive start, setting up a purposeful morning choice time, creating opportunities for conversations around morning messages, working efficiently with letters and sounds, incorporating movement into phonological and phonemic awareness routines, supporting growth in fine motor skills and increasing student independence. If time permits we will explore how to capture all of this in a visual journal.

Our presenter, Patty Slavin [a.day.in.k] will provide you with practical tips and daily routines that will boost engagement and empower our youngest learners.

Presenters

Patty Slavin

Hi, I am Patty Slavin. Teaching has been an important part of my life for over 30 years. The last 13 have been in a kindergarten classroom which is truly the best job on earth.

My passions lie in two areas, early literacy and fostering creativity. Through the learning spaces we build, the vocabulary we employ and the activities we invite kids to explore, I believe we CAN work in an environment where kids are excited and intrinsically motivated to engage.

I hope you will join me for some in-depth talk about teaching, learning, thinking, and building foundational skills in our youngest learners.
