Program

TARGET AUDIENCE: ALL K-12 EDUCATORS, LITERACY LEADERS AND ELL SPECIALISTS ARE ENCOURAGED TO ATTEND

Students need significant exposure and opportunity to use new vocabulary. This session is intended for educators to integrate some engaging techniques for vocabulary acquisition through games, instructional conversations, technology, and graphic organizers that are application at all instructional levels.

This learning opportunity is being offered through curriculum implementation funding from Alberta Education.

Presenters

Adam Browning

is a Director of Learning with Palliser Regional Schools and is a doctoral student at the University of Calgary studying in the faculty of languages and literacy. His interests and areas of research are primarily in English Language Acquisition, academic literacy, and vocabulary acquisition.

Sarah Clark

works with Foothills School Division, south of Calgary. Her work as Principal of Divisional Programming includes English Second Language programming. Sarah studied language and diversity while earning her Masters of Education at the University of Calgary. Serving many years with the Alberta Teacher's Association English Second Language Association, she now eagerly learns through colleagues, workshops, sessions and pre-service teachers.
