

First Nations, Métis, and Inuit – Holistic Indigenous Teaching Practices– Trauma Informed

PRESENTED BY Kerrie Moore

SERIES SESSIONS

Date	Time
January 22, 2018	9:00 AM – 11:30 AM

LOCATION
St. Leo Centre – 6220 Lakeview Drive SW

FEE

$15.00

QUESTIONS?

Contact Us:
crc-register@arpc.ab.ca
403-291-0967

REGISTER ONLINE

Visit our website to register:
crcpd.ab.ca

Program

TARGET AUDIENCE: K-12 SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS, DISTRICTS LEADS, TEACHERS AND EDUCATIONAL ASSISTANTS ARE ENCOURAGED TO ATTEND

This session will provide support for all levels of school authorities that results in an increased awareness and understanding of First Nations, Métis, and Inuit histories, perspectives, and Indigenous ways of knowing. Métis Elder Kerrie Moore will present on Trauma Informed Practices and provide strategies when working with students who are experiencing trauma, additionally, Kerrie will speak about how to create a school environment where every student feels safe and supported and where staff understand how trauma affects behavior and emotions.

This learning opportunity is being offered through an education for reconciliation grant from Alberta Education

Presenters

Kerrie Moore

is a respected Cree- Métis Elder originally from Saskatchewan. She is a successful Integrative Psychotherapist working in private practice as a consultant, educator, spiritual advisor and trauma therapist. Kerrie specializes in holistic therapies and combines her clinical social work education with spiritual and alternative practices

Providing Quality Professional Learning
Opportunities to K-12 Education Staff