Program

AUDIENCE: GRADES K-8 TEACHERS, SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS, DISTRICT LEADS/COACHES, AND EDUCATIONAL ASSISTANTS ARE ENCOURAGED TO ATTEND.

In this session, First Nations, Métis, and Inuit: Learning from Story will highlight the concept of the Oracy Framework, which presents the significant use of language-based learning to teach students to use effective communication skills. The sharing of trickster/truth stories will model strategies to demonstrate the importance of listening, speaking effectively and the power of silence. Language based activities will scaffold the Oracy Framework and an Indigenous Literature Kit will provide plans and stories to use within your classroom.

Presenters

Donna Ross

is a 32-year educator. She is Cree Métis from Saskatchewan and member of the One Arrow First Nation, Treaty Six territory. Donna began her teaching career as a classroom teacher with Tsuut'ina Nation and continued to support First Nations learners in subsequent positions with Siksika and Stoney Nakoda Nations, and is currently an Indigenous Designer of Learning with the Calgary Regional Consortium. Donna brings passion and a deep knowledge of First Nations, Métis, and Inuit histories, the impact of residential schools, and the embedding of Indigenous ways of knowing into Alberta curriculum and organizational culture. She is also a proud kokum!

Lorrie Morales

is a semi-retired teacher who is presently working with the Calgary Regional Consortium as a consultant. She has over 30 years of experience in adult education, high school, with a focus on Middle School. Lorrie has worked as a classroom teacher, served on various committees, mentored student teachers, designed instruction, and worked with professionals in a variety of roles. She has recently published her first book and is working on her next one. During the pandemic she has also started various art projects. You will find her making moments matter and dreaming of a sunny beach in the future.
