Learning Opportunity

TARGET AUDIENCE: All K-12 educators are encouraged to attend.

Working in the Alberta school system demands emotional labour from educational assistants, teachers, school leaders and other education workers.

Occupational hazards such as compassion fatigue and burnout can result from providing emotional labour without protecting your own well-being.

In this interactive session, Dr. Astrid Kendrick will discuss some of the stress and distress felt by educational workers and will introduce HEARTcare planning, a framework for building occupational well-being for all educators.
